Feldstein, Shinnick and Kelly
Elected New Class Presidents

Elections for next year's senior, junior and sophomore classes were held Thursday, April 26. The voting was conducted in front of Freeland after lunch.

Officers of next year's senior class include: president, Murray Feldstein; vice-president, George "Rocky" Roberts; secretary, Sue Higley; and treasurer, Roy DeBeer. Murray Feldstein, a bio major from Havertown, was also president of his class this past year. He served as Head Soph Ruler in the past, is a brother of Beta Sigma Lambda, a new member of Cub and Key.

Rocky Roberts is an economics major from Delanco, New Jersey. He plays on the varsity baseball team and is a brother of Demas fraternity.

Susan Higley was re-elected to the position of secretary. She is a sister of Sig Nu, a member of the Junior Prom Court, and will represent her class in the Spring Festival Court.

Roy DeBeer was tapped as treasurer for a third term. He is a varsity wrestler, sings in the chapel choir, was a soph ruler. He is a brother of Sig Rho.

Juniors and Sophs

Sophomore class officers for next year are: president, Mike Kelly; vice-president, Noll Evans; secretary, Kathy Dolman; and treasurer, Kent Ferguson.

Young Democrats Foresee
Active Year Under Ryan

The Ursinus Young Democrats held their first organizational meeting of this year on April 17 in Bomberger Hall. This meeting and the meeting on April 23 were involved solely with reorganizing the club and electing officers for the remainder of this year and for next year. Those elected were Jim Ryan, president; John Reynolds, vice-president; Lillian Kulp, secretary; and Terry Farley, treasurer.

Coming Activities

The chief purpose of this reorganization after nearly a year of inactivity is to help those candidates from Montgomery County seeking Democratic office next fall. Sure to benefit from the club's efforts will be the organization's advisor and Democratic nominee for the state senatorial seat of Montgomery County, Dr. F. Donald Zucker.

Concerning future plans, the club hopes to meet at least once a month and has planned a meeting to be held in May for those interested in joining the club or helping with its activities.

ATTENTION WOMEN

Representatives from the US Navy, Women Officer Programs, will be in the Paisley Hall foyer on Friday, May 4 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. They will be available to discuss opportunities for college women in the US Navy and to answer any questions pertaining to the Women Officer Programs.

UC Mile Relayers
Place 3rd Friday
In Penn RelaysSermarini, Powers, Wise
And Dunn Effective Team

The Ursinus Mile Relay team ran to a third place finish in the A. W. "Pop" Haddleton Mile Relay Friday afternoon at the Penn Relays. Clocking unofficially in 3:31.7, the Bears broke the 17-year-old Ursinus mile relay record of 3:33.2. This is unofficial as of presstime. Coach Ray Gurzynski is seeking confirmation of this time from the official Penn Relays timer.

Versatile Tony Sermarini led off with a 52.5 quarter, followed by a 53 flat by Fred Powers. Team captain Pete Wise, despite a body block thrown on him by an F & M runner, turned in a 54.7. Pete Dunn anchored the Bears with a 51.7.

An Ursinus Phenomenon

Haeussner Elected
President of MSGA

Photogenic Charlie Haeussner, newly elected President of MSGA, is snapped down by the tennis courts.

Thursday, April 26, elections were held to determine the officers for next year's MSGA. The voting was heavy, the candidates strong, and the outcome close.

Charlie Haeussner was elected President for the coming term. Haeussner is a bio major from Philadelphia, active in the Pre-Medical Society, the band, and Messiah chorus. He is a brother of Sig Rho fraternity.

Dave Kohr will serve as vice-president. Kohr is a psychology major from Fox Chase and is also a brother of Sig Rho.

Next year's secretary-treasurer will be Fred Powers. Powers has made a name for himself in varsity wrestling and track. His election rounded out a clean sweep of the MSGA offices by the brothers of Sig Rho.

Women Voters Tap
New Dorm Officers

Recently the women of Ursinus elected dormitory officers for the coming academic year. These officers were installed at the WSGA banquet held on Monday, April 23, 1962.

The New Dorms

The officers in Paisley Hall are: president, Sue Higley; secretary - treasurer, Judy Lenz. Senators are Judy Habeck, Jane Smith, and Marion Pollanick. Officers in Beardwood Hall: president, Margie Peffle, secretary, Linda Carpenter; and treasurer, Marion Leahy. Senators are Karen Entekin and Carol Glessner. Margie Peffle, Beardwood's president, has also been elected chairman of the combined hall presidents.

New Appointments
To '62-63 Cabinet

Upon being elected Presidents of the YM-YWCA for the coming year, Steve Wurster and Lois Hartzell began selecting students to fill the thirteen cabinet positions. The new Cabinet met for the first time on Sunday, April 15.

PAC

The Public Affairs Commission, which handles inter-collegiate affairs of the "Y" is led by juniors Betsy Yost and Denny Krauss. Betsy is an English major from Collegeville. She is newly elected president of Pi Nu, the honorary musical society. She is also the vice-president of the Whittians for next year. Denny is a pol sci major from Mainland. He is active in the MSGA, his fraternity (Alpha Phi Epsilon) and three sports teams. Earlier this year Denny was elected one of the two business managers of the 1963 Ruby.

CAC

Freshmen Noll Evans and Jean Dillin led the recreation at the Spring "Y" Retreat as part of their job as co-chairmen of the Campus Affairs Commission. Noll, a history major from Narberth, is a brother of Demas fraternity. Jean, elected Ursinus' "Best Dressed Coed," is active in the Meistersingers and Messiah Chorus.

SRC

Sophomores Carol Heber and George McVaugh are the heads of the Social Responsibilities Commission which sponsors trips to several social and mental institutions. Carol is the sophomore class representative to WSGA, a Meistersinger and is on the customs committee. George received Honorable Mention in the Middle Atlantic Conference as a soccer halfback. He is a brother of APO.

Of Statewide PSEA

Ed Myers was elected vice-president of the student PSEA on a state-wide level during a special conference held April 27 and 28 at Shippensburg State College. Approximately 300 representatives from 50 Pennsylvania colleges attended and participated in the voting.

As part of his new responsibilities, Myers is now a member of the state executive council and the co-ordinating committee. He will be required to participate in meetings and give speeches throughout the state during the coming year.

Past FTA Prexy

Myers' interest in the state education organizations dates back to high school, where he served as the state president of the Future Teachers of America. Myers told the Weekly that he is looking forward to an active and successful year in his (Continued on page 4)

IFS Weekend Features Saylor,
Hawkins Rock & Roll Group

The social fraternities and sororities on our campus will join forces the weekend of May 4, 5, and 6 to jointly sponsor the annual IFS Weekend. According to Gary Leach, President of the Inter-fraternity Council, final arrangements are now being made in preparation of the event, the only one of its kind at Ursinus.

Debaters Place in
New York Tourney

The Ursinus College Debating Club sent its varsity teams to New York to compete with thirty-nine other schools in debating, persuasive speaking, and after dinner speaking at a special conference. The tournament began Friday morning and ended Saturday evening.

The affirmative team of Leonard Footland and David Sall lost their four debates, three by very close margins. Their opponents were debaters from the University of South Carolina, the University of Georgia, William and Mary and Rutgers University.

Sanders and Yocum Win

Dick Sanders and Fred Yocum, the negative team, won two of their four debates. They defeated students from Queens College and the Royal Military College of Canada and lost to Buffalo University and William and Mary. Compared with the records of the participants in each debate, individual honors for the Ursinus team went to Fred Yocum who topped two firsts and two ties for second.

In the public speaking categories of the tournament, neither Leonard Footland nor Fred Yocum qualified for the finals. However, they both scored at least 330 out of a possible 400 points with Footland getting 339 in persuasive speaking and Yocum 330 in the after - dinner speaking.

Meistersingers in Fine Voice Finish
Season on Campus

by Linda Carpenter

Last Thursday evening the Ursinus Meistersingers gave their final concert of the season in Bomberger Hall. The concert was opened under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, although the first number "To Thee We Sing" received no visible direction. The remainder of the program was directed by Dr. Philip and Miss Judy Nelson alternately. Student director John Hope was unable to attend the concert due to illness.

Accompanists were Linda Thompson and Elizabeth Keps, piano, and Robert Jones, organ.

Secular Favorites

The concert was largely sacred and the numbers were sung with feeling and force. "O Divine Redeemer" was most representative of this. The ability of the chorus warranted more secular numbers and a cut of several sacred. Secular numbers included were "Anthem for Spring," "The Sound of Music," and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho;" these were well received.

Entrances were good and attacks solid. The group blended well with the exception of a (Continued on page 2)

On Friday evening, May 4, there will be a dance at Sunnybrook Ballroom featuring the music of Arlen Saylor and his Orchestra. This dance is free of charge to fraternity and sorority members and their guests and is open to non-Greeks for an admission charge.

Saturday morning the annual Inter-fraternity Track Meet will be held. Fraternity and Independent participants will compete for honors.

Saturday evening "Screamin' Jay Hawkins" will provide the music at an informal dance as he will also on Sunday afternoon at a picnic open to all students.

A note to the women: appropriate dress for the events will include a cocktail dress for the Friday dance, shirtwaists for Saturday night, and bermudas for the picnic.

Committee Heads

In charge of the arrangements for the Weekend is Gary Leach of the IFC. Carole Smith will head publicity with the aid of a representative of each sorority. Patti Whittick heads the decoration committee. Expenses will be defrayed by each sorority and fraternity and by admissions of non-Greeks who attend the open events.

Spring Blooms to Enliven Campus

Sharp detonations and reverberations resound outside. Have the OAS moved in to terrorize Collegeville with plastic bombs and sniping? Pigeons in the chapel. Youths walking around in the attire of baby's first year, with smeared faces and baby bottles tightly clutched in moist hands. Ah, Spring, the start of the silly season. Cherry bombs, frat pranks, and initiations. Lighthearted or impulsive rebellion to balance the curricula of Father Ursinus' College.

Old Man Winter Leaves

With the passing of hostile winter, nature attempts to beckon one away from his books. Convenient arguments for an academic let-up rise to one's mind. Richard Halliburton, the famed world-traveler and author deserted his college to drop out and seek the royal road to adventure. Who was the culprit? The spirit of a spring evening by a campus pond.

Any number of great philosophers and famous men, some of whom are quite mediocre in their academic standings, implore one, via print, to quit the books and to enjoy life while one is still young. Yes, if one doesn't catch one's self, one is apt to find himself, chin in hand, staring out a window, (Continued on page 4)

EDITORIAL

The Right to Review

We are concerned about a certain touchiness on the part of some organizations and individuals toward having their productions and performances reviewed in the WEEKLY by "amateurs."

It should not be necessary to point out that the WEEKLY is a student paper. Our material is student-written. It seems quite obvious that we have no outstanding critics, and we should not be expected to. After all, we have no outstanding dramatists, singers, writers, and so on in our midst at Ursinus. Boiled down, then, the WEEKLY presents student-written reviews of student-performed presentations.

Each of us is paranoid to a certain extent, but when someone feels that the WEEKLY in general, or a writer in particular "has it in for him" this is going too far. Complaints have always been levelled toward student publications, both by faculty members and students themselves. It is the nature of these complaints that disturbs us.

When you come right down to it, it is difficult to persuade someone to write a review. "What, me?" is the reaction. "Why, I don't know that much about it!" of course not: who does?

But a reviewer (or critic, whichever you prefer) has a job to do. If organizations expect coverage of their events, they cannot assume that this coverage will be favorable in every case. "To thine ownself be true . . ." and all that. A reviewer is simply presenting his own opinions: no attempt is being made to influence others. People are capable of thinking for themselves (of course, sometimes we wonder).

As for the charge that a "nasty" review will hurt an organization, this is poppycock. Students have already formed their opinions about organizations, and no student-written review is going to change these opinions very much.

Come to think of it, how can one who opposes a critic take it upon himself to criticize the critic himself. It seems kind of hypocritical . . .

:: LETTERS TO THE EDITOR ::

To the men of Ursinus:

The undersigned wrote a letter to your editor about 3 weeks ago which was not printed due, we are told, to lack of space and duplication of material. However, judging from the last issue of the Weekly your editor has apparently come to see that there are at least two sides to the question of a lack of social life on this campus. Perhaps he will treat this letter more kindly.

Perhaps it is true that the men on this campus are here solely for an education and prefer not to cultivate social connections. Perhaps a majority of the people here prefer to mope around the dorm rather than contribute their skills and energy to some campus activity. Perhaps this is the case. However, there is one inconsistency for which I can see no explanation: the "stagnant stagnation."

Will some kind gentlemen please explain to me why fellows will pay 35c to get into a dance at the T-G Gym and then not dance. These fellows apparently are not working on a research paper (at least I haven't noticed the majority of them in my Soc class lately), and they can't use the excuse of not having enough money to take a girl to the dance since the girls (having paid their own way) are already there. When someone can give me a logical explanation of this phenomenon then perhaps I will believe that the men on this campus have a case. Until then, however, I will remain a bewildered, dissatisfied upperclassman. Yes, Mr. "Wait til '64," there are some dissatisfied upperclassmen, I'm one of them! J.

Dear Sir:

On Wednesday evening, April 11, Mrs. Seccombe and I were privileged to entertain in our home approximately 38 members of the Ursinus College Meistersingers for an impromptu party following their concert at the First Congregational Church in Bristol. We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the pleasure of their company on this occasion. A more enjoyable or better mannered group of young people we have never encountered; they are truly a credit to their parents, their college, and to themselves.

Their visit here also served as a fine example to our two older children, age 11 and 13, who joined the party. We heartily extend an invitation to this group to visit with us again whenever they may be in this area, either as a group or individually.

Very sincerely yours,
Lionel H. Seccombe, Jr.

Germany Revisited,
Then to Amsterdam

with Dr. Armstrong . . .

by Cindy Morris

Before leaving Germany for Amsterdam, a steamer trip on the Rhine and a talk with some modern day German students was in order.

The Rhine is as picturesque as legends represent it. There is ample scenery and castles on both banks, and, of course, the renowned Lorelei Rock, so well known to Ursinus students.

The city of Cologne with its beautiful high Gothic cathedral, also afforded an opportunity for an opinionated chat with some lively German students who had just finished taking their examinations and were in the midst of a celebration. They had very definite views about America and Americans. They were quite pleased with President Kennedy, but didn't like Eisenhower or Khrushchev, dismissing them both as farmers and not at all worldly wise.

Cuban Blunder

They talked quite extensively about our recent blunder in Cuba, and were of the opinion that there wouldn't be any Communism in Cuba today if the United States hadn't interfered. The German students were economics majors and were dismayed and amused to learn that in the United States, women students were allowed to take economics courses. They also had an unfortunate stereotyped picture of American students—ones who don't go to college to study, but to have a good time and drink, and if they are women, to get a man. The German students were very well acquainted with American foreign policy and seemed to be much more well versed on current events in the world than the average American.

Amsterdam, known as "the Venice of the north" for its many canals, is a charmingly clean and neat city, typically Dutch. All the houses have hooks on the roofs to bring in and take out furniture since the doors and stairways are too small and narrow. Most of the houses also have mirrors outside of their second story windows so that the inhabitants can see the street, and more important, who is ringing their doorbell. For every two inhabitants in Amsterdam there is one bicycle. With so many bicycles, there are frequent and numerous traffic accidents, and the city keeps special traffic accident flags flying at half mast every day that someone is killed, which is nearly every day.

Isle of Marken

The Island of Marken, just a short boat trip from Amsterdam is one of the few places in Holland where the people are still supposed to be living according to the old fashioned Dutch customs, complete with native costumes, wooden shoes and the like. The women shave their heads in the back, but keep two long curls which come down over their shoulders in the front; and protruding from their simple bonnets on their foreheads are bangs that almost stand out straight having been slicked with soap and water to keep them stiff. Actually, the younger generation on the island is modern; it is just the old folks that are reputed to preserve the ancient tradition. Whether it is genuine or merely put on for the tourists, it is a part of the history and culture of the country that must be preserved.

tenor voice occasionally penetrating. There was good tonal quality and volume differentiation. "Hospodi Pomilui" excellently demonstrated this ability.

The soloists, Lodie Kershner, Elmeretta Bottiglier, Dave Stewart and Diane Williams handled their numbers well. Miss Williams' solo "Love is Where You Find It," was perhaps the best of the evening.

High Point

The most effective number of the concert was "The Voice of Freedom", the finale. The accompanists, Bob Jones and Linda Thompson, added greatly to the piece. The organ was occasionally overpowering, but was an excellent backing. Attendance was good (for this campus) and those who were present were not disappointed. It was a good concert and one of which the group can be proud.

Carol Taney, Jeanne Roosen, and Judith Yaskin respectively. Senators are Sue Doyle and Sue Musselman.

The Off-Campus Dorms

Shreiner elected Lorraine Kincez, Elizabeth Kelly, Pam McDonough and Judy Esterline as president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and senator. Florence Fisher will serve as president of 942.

Hobson Hall's offices are filled by Merrie Elwell, Tara Boyd, and Alice Clute. In Duryea Hall Lodie Kershner holds the position of president, with Sandra Taylor and Dayie Stapleton as secretary - treasurer and senator. Clamer's president is yet to be decided, while Patricia Goekmeyer and Yvonne Finnmeyer are the senator and secretary-treasurer. 944's officers are yet to be decided, and 646's officers will be elected next year.

Carp's Washington
Of Capitol's Past

by Jean Hunter

Carp's Washington, published by McGraw-Hill in 1960, is a collection of anecdotes about Washington, D. C. in the 1880's taken from the writings of Frank G. Carpenter, a widely-read columnist for the Cleveland Leader. Edited by his daughter, Frances Carpenter, these excerpts from his original correspondence present a delightful insight into both the private and public life of our nation's capital during that fast-moving decade.

The variety of subject matter covered by Mr. Carpenter can be demonstrated by the fact that in addition to lucidly discussing Grover Cleveland's climb to popularity, Carp also found a place in his columns for lively anecdotes, such as the tale about a civil servant who lived in a tree. All the famous figures of the 1880's can be found in the pages of this book and one can often see behind the facades they presented to the world into the real person, as Carp saw him.

Cleveland Amory stated in his introduction to the book that "out of the materials that other reporters found too trifling, Frank G. Carpenter . . . wrought the most enduring and endearing of his times." The irony of this fact and also the love Carp had for the city and its people provide much of the fascination and charm of the book.

Wide Appeal

Carp's Washington is a book that will appeal to many. The student of politics, the student of history, and the student of human nature all will find much to interest them within these pages. But anyone, no matter where his interest may lie, cannot help but be enchanted by the man who was Frank G. Carpenter, as he revealed himself in his writings.

Netwomen Defeat Penn Varsity, JV's

After dropping the opener to Bryn Mawr, the girls' tennis team roared back to take two victories from Penn at Penn on Thursday. The Varsity won 3-2, and the JV's followed suit, 3-1. Ginny Gross, playing first in the Varsity singles, beat Weintraub, 6-1 and 9-7. Ruth Fatscher had to play three sets to win the second match from Penn's Beyer. Sue Prindle stepped over Sidford, 6-3 and 6-2. Penn won the doubles but had to play three sets to do so. Wolf and Ulen took Eyre and Frey 6-1, 2-6, and 6-4, while Musselman and Bottjer lost to Creech and Gilburg, 5-7, 6-1, 0-6.

Jayvee Action

Elaine Brown beat Milliken 6-3 and 6-3 to win the first JV match for the Ursinus lassies. Judy Hennessy, who holds the second singles position, won her sets 6-4 and 6-3 from Samek. Judy Zabel won the third singles match for Ursinus by beating Roos 6-2 and 6-2. Penn won the doubles match with Powers and Adler aking Weisel and Tignor 2-6, 6-0, and 6-4.

Lacrossers Smash Penn, Swarthmore, Deadlock Shipley

UC 13—Penn 5

The Ursinus lacrosse team got the 1962 stick season under way on April 17, by defeating the lassies of the University of Penn by the lopsided score of 13-5. Big scoring guns of the Collegeville squad were Lore Hamilton, Lynne Crosley, Lee Spahr, Enid Chinchard and Cindy Hays. The scoring action began early in the contest as the visitors took complete control of the game in fine style. Putting up a stubborn defense to back up the scoring punches, the Bears of Marge Watson put the Philly hostesses to shame before the second half of the tussle. Lore Hamilton, Lynne Crosley and Enid Clinchard each chalked up three goals.

UC 7—Swarthmore 2

Ursinus liked the taste of victory enough to conquer the Swarthmore College team 7 to 2 in the opening home tiff of the year on April 27. Although the UC squad found the going a little more difficult, they managed to keep hold of an early lead. The victorious combination of Anne Sansenbach, Lore Hamilton, Lee Spahr, Lynne Crosley and Enid Clinchard, put the clinches on the visiting Swarthmore gals to ensure the second victory of the season.

10-10 Deadlock

Playing in the sweltering heat last Saturday afternoon, the UC lacrossers managed to come out in a deadlock with the girls of the Mainline Shipley team. The high scoring contest found the final log reading in a 10-10 stalemate after the Ursinus club lost their lead late in the game.

The real test of the team will be Thursday when the gals from West Chester invade the Ursinus campus. Game time will be 3:30 and there should be action aplenty as these two highly skilled squads clash.

Cindercrew Downs F&M, Sets Records In Swarthmore Tilt

UC 72 — F & M 58

The Bears' track squad downed Franklin and Marshall 72 and two-thirds to 58 and one-third as many outstanding performances were recorded. Bob Carney, Tony Sermarini and Mike Kelly each annexed two events to pace the cindermen to their second victory in three starts.

Once again Ursinus trounced their opponents (37 and two-thirds to 16 and one-third) in the field events. Ron Ritz vaulted 11 feet 3 inches to win the pole vault while Fred Powers placed third. Dick Woodruff leaped 20 feet 2 inches to cop the broad jump while Bob Gladstone and Bob Barandon placed two-three to give the Bears a sweep in this event. Captain Pete Wise placed second in the high jump with Baradon and Dave Bonner tied in third place.

Tony Sermarini hurled the javelin 194 feet 10 inches and Bob Carney put the shot 46 feet one and one-half inches and threw the discus 134 feet as Ursinus swept the weight events. Denny Wilson placed second in the shot put and third in the discus. Sermarini doubled in the quarter and won in :54.8 with Pete Dunn second. Dunn also placed second in the 880 yard run.

Frosh Mike Kelly annexed the 100 and 200 yard as Tom Walters ran second in the century and third in the latter. Dick Allebach gained second in the 220 to give Ursinus another sweep. John Swinton ran his best race to date as he placed third in the two mile run. In the hurdle events Wise placed third in the highs and John Hunsicker garnered his initial first place as he won the 220 lows.

Swarthmore 80—UC 51

Despite a school record tying performance by Pete Dunn and a clean sweep in the shot put, Ursinus was soundly trounced 80-51 by Swarthmore to even the Bears' record at 2-2.

Dunn ran a sparkling race in winning the quarter-mile and tied the college record of :51.0. Dunn was joined by Tony Sermarini, Fred Powers and captain Pete Wise on the Bears' mile relay squad which proceeded to set a new meet record of 3:36.3 in the final event on the program. A third meet record was set by senior Dick Woodruff who leaped 21 feet 6.5 inches to establish a new mark.

Bob Carney and Denny Wilson continued to run one-two in the shot put while frosh Hal Fullam garnered a third to give the Bears a sweep. Carney tossed the discus 138 feet 7 inches with Wilson in second place. Tony Sermarini annexed the javelin event with a throw of 170 feet 7 inches; frosh Don Jeffries placed third.

Dave Bonner and Wise gathered two-thirds of the three-way tie for first place in the jump while Powers and Ron Ritz tied for third in the pole vault. Wise also garnered a third in the high hurdles and tied John Hunsicker for second in the low hurdles. Dick Allebach placed third in the 100 yard dash but the Bears were whitewashed in the 220, 880, mile and two mile runs.

Once again the Bears romped in the field events as they piled up a 35-19 margin, but this was not enough as the Garnet rolled to a 61-16 decision in the running events.

UC 23 — W. Maryland 9

On Friday, the Bears exploded for 23 runs and 19 hits as they completely humbled a fair Western Maryland team (6-3), 23-9. Curt Conn pitched the initial 6 innings while Hoffman and Parker finished up.

The Bears started early, scoring three times in the top of the first, aided by Bill Degenhardt's two run homer. Western Maryland then scored once in the bottom of the first with the aid of an error. Western Maryland crept to within one run as they added another tally in their half of the second. In the third the Bears scored three times, benefiting from two walks and singles by Williamson, Henry, and Bill Scholl.

The 3 K's

The Bears then scored five times on two walks and three singles to make the score 11-2. Western Maryland came back with six runs in the bottom of the sixth on three walks and three hits. The Bears retaliated with two runs in the seventh on hits by the three K's, Korenkiewicz, Koch, and Knight. UC finished up with four hits and two walks for four runs while Western Maryland managed to add another score to make it 23-9.

The game was marked by a return to form by Barrie Williamson, who along with seniors Don Henry and Larry Koch had three hits apiece. Tomorrow the Bears venture to Johns Hopkins with the opportunity to break the all-time week-end trip record of 30 runs for the two games.

Hopkins 5 — UC 1

The Jays surprised the Bears Saturday and upset them, 5-1. The Johns Hopkins' pitcher, Dave Leonard, pitched nine hit balls and struck out thirteen as he came through in the clutch more than once. The Jays banged out eleven hits for their five runs.

The Bears drew first blood in the second when Scholl singled, stole second, and scored the lone Bear run on Graver's hit. The Jays retaliated in the third as Dempsey doubled and scored on Poffenburger's single, and he in turn scored on Hollen's single to center. Johns Hopkins scored two more in the fourth as Gottwals, McIlvaine, and Dempsey all singled.

The Bears had the bases loaded in the fourth and had men on second and third several times but failed to score. In the eighth, Scholl and Henry had singles and Graver walked, but to no avail as the next two batters failed to connect. The Jays scored again on the benefit of a walk, a stolen base, and a single by Carroll. Then pitcher Leonhard handcuffed the Bears in the ninth to preserve his victory.

The Bears were as ineffective Saturday as they had been effective Friday. They left eleven men stranded and suffered thirteen strikeouts. However, they hope to rebound against F & M on Monday.

the PRESSBOX

by Craig Garner
Sports Editor

The crack of the bat has echoed across the Ursinus campus for the past month and a half, and baseball weather has finally arrived. The abbreviated collegiate baseball season is at the midway point, so now is as good a time as any to survey the accomplishments and the disappointments of the UC nine. Actually, the picture thus far is colored a pleasant tint. Yet, unfortunate defeats at the hands of pesky Swarthmore and surprising Johns Hopkins have detracted from an otherwise successful campaign.

The diamond sport has always been king of Ursinus' crippled sports program. Amiable Sieb Pancoast is the man responsible; for he has whipped twelve out of his previous fifteen clubs to winning records. The team of '62 gives every indication that they will make his sixteenth season a sweet one. The Siebmenn have copped five of their first eight contests, and judging from the remaining schedule they could reverse the 6-9 skein of last year.

The question which plagued Coach Pancoast at the beginning of the season was whether or not his team would duplicate the amazing hitting feats of the Phillies. The offensive attack was built around powerful Barrie Williamson, but someone else was needed to drive home the runs when Williamson had an off day. "If I just had a couple .400 hitters who could take the pressure off Barrie" was the fanciful observation provided by the Coach. Well, perhaps the Bears have added that extra something which produces runs. The Siebmenn have rocked opposing hurlers for 75 runs which can be converted into 9 runs per game.

This impressive scoring does not reveal the entire story though. Ursinus has only faced a couple of pitchers which can be classified as decent. The throwers from Dickinson, PMC, and Haverford, whom they raked unmercifully, seemed to just ooze the ball up to the plate. Of course, these so-called pitchers did not present much of a problem to the UC swatters, but higher quality hurlers have stymied the Bears' aggregate.

This inconsistent hitting must not overshadow the gleaming performances of the veterans and a couple of smooth-looking rookies. Larry Koch has been wielding a potent stick; Barrie Williamson and captain Doug Harper have been erratic in the field and at the dish; Bill Graver has developed into one of the better defensive catchers in the league; and the pitching staff anchored by Terry Shaner, Chuck Schaal, and Curt Conn has been relatively effective. The best of the "new blood" is UC's classy centerfielder, Bill Degenhardt, who Pancoast describes as 'a real ball-hawk defensively and extremely fast.' Bill Scholl has blossomed into an all-round ball player; and Sieb also possesses two pitchers that he "wouldn't hesitate to use in a tight ball game"—Butch Hoffman and Wheaties Parker.

The tougher teams, Scranton, Moravian, and Lehigh, lie ahead. UC cannot rely on pitching alone, and if they are to hurdle these clubs in quest of a victorious season it will depend on their bats and nothing else. If it takes brash confidence and a great deal of unconquerable optimism to secure that lucky thirteenth winning year, we're sure that Sieb Pancoast has very little to worry about.

Ursinus 5—Wilkes 0

Chuck Schaal hurled a superb 3-hitter and displayed pin-point control as Ursinus eased past Wilkes College. Bill Degenhardt led the hitting attack with a perfect 3 for 3. UC made the most of their 7 hits, but it was Schaal's mound mastery which nailed down the triumph.

Wednesday, April 18 —

Ursinus 18—Haverford 2

The Bears creamed four Haverford pitchers for 14 hits, and had little trouble walloping a poor Ford team, 18-2. Freshman Butch Hoffman twirled a strong 7 innings, and John Parker tossed the final two frames. The Ursinus swatters had a field day with the opposing pitchers who seemed to get progressively worse. Freshman John Schatz powered a circuit blast to lead the UC attack.

Swarthmore 9—Ursinus 4

The Swarthmore Quakers engineered a 9-4 upset over the UC nine with the aid of strong defense and adequate pitching. The Swarthmore hitters knocked out Jim Stauffer, and then added insurance in the late rounds off Parker. Second sacker Beitman led the opposition with 3 singles and 5 stolen bases. The Ursinus guns were not completely silenced as Barrie Williamson knocked in a pair of runs; Don Stock opened the game with a homer; and freshman Bob Wighton belted a couple of hits.

Tennismen Suffer

Swarthmore 9—UC 0

Ursinus' tennis squad fell before the onslaught of three powerful net teams. The Swarthmore match was simply a case of too much talent. The Garnets perennially blank Ursinus and this year was no exception.

Delaware 8—UC 1

Delaware was steady throughout in downing Ursinus 8-1. Bob Fernandez playing in his first match this season came up with the lone victory.

F & M 9—UC 0

At Franklin and Marshall the entire story cannot be seen in the shutout. Many of the matches were close, but the crucial games were lost by all and Ursinus was once again blanked.

1945 when the old record was set. Quarter milers have been a scarcity and getting four of them in the same year was, until now, a virtual impossibility for Gurzynski.

Albright won the race in the event record time of 3:26.5 with Swarthmore finishing second. Gurzynski was well pleased with the team's performance, noting, however, that the time would have been even faster had not Wise had his unfortunate encounter with the F and M runner.

Cruise Plan Mixes Excitement with Summer Education

Four three-week round-trip cruises from New York City to Cape Cod aboard a 60-foot Chesapeake Bay Schooner will be offered this summer.

Captain Zindel Elmer (owner of the yacht "Kessie C. Price") said that while the trip is planned primarily for art and photography students, it is open to all. He said that professional artists and photographers will be aboard to help students who wish to paint or photograph scenes along the way.

Instruction in sailing, piloting, and elementary celestial navigation will also be given free of charge to those wanting it, Elmer said. Cost of the trip for the entire three-week cruise will be $200. Elmer said this low price is made possible because students act as crew members and perform various chores, such as hoisting and lowering sails, upping the anchor, helping in the galley, and performing other "routine maintenance chores." He pointed out that this is an inexpensive way for students to combine learning with an adventurous vacation.

"Kessie," as she is affectionately known, offers twelve comfortable berths, a spacious galley, two heads, and electric lights, which as Elmer says, "even college students roughing it learn to appreciate."

According to Elmer, the itinerary for the cruise is as follows: Boat will leave from the Sheepshead Bay area in Brooklyn, sail up the New York Bays with a turn or two around the Statue of Liberty for some quick sketches. Then the sails will be doused, "Kessie" will turn on her engine, nose into the East River, and proceed up past the United Nations to City Island where she will spend the first night.

Progress thereafter will depend on the wind, as the students work the boat on tracks across Long Island Sound, anchoring alternately on the shores of Long Island or Connecticut, or dash quickly to Block Island before winds abate the beam. Block Island, Martha's Vineyard, and the Cape Cod area itself will be leisurely encountered.

The trip home will be more direct, along the southern coast of Long Island past Jones Beach and Fire Island back to Sheepshead Bay.

Captain Elmer, formerly an Ensign in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, is a New York City high school teacher. Further information can be obtained by writing him at 430 E. 65th St., New York 21, N. Y.

Openings in Africa Teaching Program

The History Department has announced a program whereby qualified teachers may secure teaching positions in the secondary schools of East Africa. The Teachers for East Africa Project developed out of a Conference on Education held at Princeton in December of 1960, sponsored by the American Council on Education.

Presently there are 150 teachers in Africa under this program. Living conditions are austere. The teachers must be self-reliant and capable of getting along well with associates and students from other cultures.

Interested students, especially seniors, should contact Dr. Armstrong for further information as to qualifications, conditions, and applications.

ignoring a droning lecturer or neglecting some all-important text lying in wait to be sucked dry of pertinent facts.

A lecturer might suddenly gain the impression that he is talking to himself—that some invisible barrier (perhaps exuded from the freshly-brushed teeth of a student) separates him from them. He gesticulates and articulates in order to attract attention, and when some are snapped out from their reverie, he'll crack a joke or two to keep them happy.

Ray Charles Beckons

Snares are set all around to drag one from making a respectable career and home. Be it Ray Charles' "Hit the Road, Jack", some anonymous Roman's "Gaudeamus Igitur," or Erich Kunz's "Freut Euch des Lebens," the sentiment is the same. The adolescence of spring seems to shout: "Enjoy life while you may and while you are still young; quit the books ere you grow double, life is a gift to be relished!"

Ample outlets are available to one and all as quickly as the college publishers, playwrights, athletic directors, and student organizations can schedule them. Up, brother, participate, study: there will come a day when you will be on your own to do as you like (within reason).

Albeit this doesn't keep one, however, from occasionally chucking a cherry bomb of two out the window to stir things up a bit, or having a bit of fun, be it approved, condoned, or frowned upon by the authorities. In moderation, of course . . .

Ursinus Coed to Enter County Beauty Pageant

Miss Carolyn Gail Boyer, of Ursinus College, has entered the Miss Montgomery County Pageant, the finals of which will be staged in the North Penn High School Auditorium on May 19.

Miss Boyer, a graduate of Springfield Township High School, has red hair, brown eyes and stands five feet four inches tall. The twenty-two year old Miss Boyer will do a pantomime and dance in the Pageant. She was Homecoming Queen for both Delta Mu Sigma and Sigma Rho Lambda at Ursinus College last year. Her chaperone at the pageant will be Mrs. Raymond Brooke of Lansdale.
